Drugs and Bollywood

Bollywood and controversies have a strong relation. Whether the talk is about casting couch, decadence, nepotism or drugs, Bollywood has surely for long taken centre stage in the media. Now, once again, the entertainment industry finds itself in the gaze with allegations of drug addiction surfacing.

This is not the first time Bollywood has been caught in a drug controversy. Reports even in the past claimed that the drug problem in Bollywood was deep-rooted, and some of the actors had confessed that though they took drugs or were addicted, they have now overcome it.

Infact, poets, painters, musicians, writers, actors, etc., - all have for long known to be associated with wine and women. A lot of great artists have even died of alcohol addiction.

On the other hand, "Millions of Indians are dependent on alcohol, cannabis, and opiates, and drug misuse is a pervasive phenomenon in Indian society," says a report, published jointly by the UN Office on Drugs and Crime and India's Ministry of Social Justice.

These users are from all strata of society, spread all across India. Why is it then that stars of Bollywood entertainment and music industry alone are blamed for the exponential increase in drug abuse?

Even school kids have been found to be addicted to drugs. Shouldn't the state, school, society and parents be responsible for kids getting addicted ? How can anyone still say that Bollywood alone is responsible for increasing addiction amongst the young?

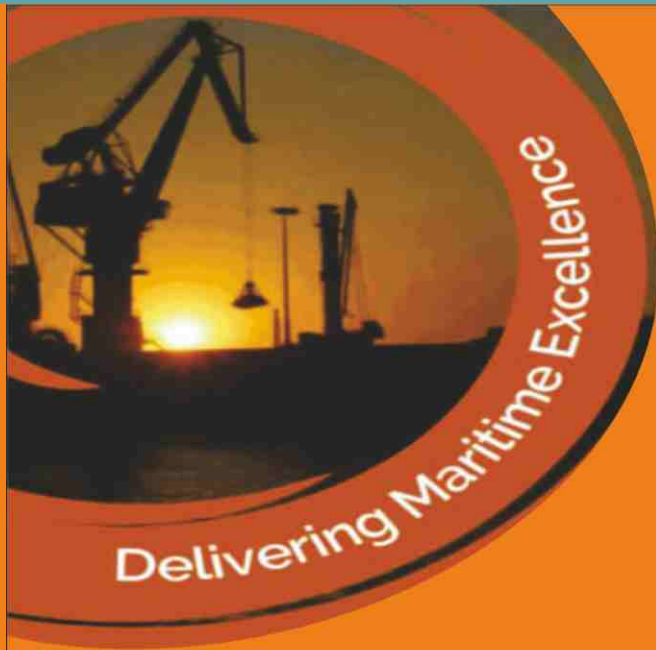

It is because there are many studies that have shown that movies, TV and music can strongly influence the decisions of children and adolescents, as well as adults because the actions of celebrities have a major impact on them.

Recent researches have also found that celebrity endorsements activate brain regions involved in making positive associations, building trust, and encoding memories. Besides, studies have also shown that the actions of celebrities can greatly influence the decision of people.

Today, the media lays much emphasis on covering celebrity lifestyles and parties. To what extent they influence the people can be gauged from the fact that during the COVID-19 pandemic, many celebrities posted their photos holidaying in the Maldives and as soon as travel restrictions were lifted, the island nation was flooded with tourists.

Drug abuse is a complex issue and since Bollywood is at the centre of all the media spotlight, it's critical and wise that celebrities behave in a manner and present social behavior which inspires the young to be creative.

Opinion

“Modi be PM for another decade to make India Superpower”

By Sanjay Sharma

India is fortunate to have Narendra Modi as Prime Minister. At the moment, it is unthinkable to have another leader to fill in his shoes.

Such has been the opinion of the majority of surfers of whispersinthecorridors.com who were asked to give their view on three prime ministerial candidates in the country.

whispersinthecorridors.com has asked its surfers that 'Who in their opinion are the three Prime Ministerial candidates across all the political parties in the country.

And none other than Modi was the favourite of majority surfers. Few, however, opined in favour of Yogi Adityanath, Nitin Gadkari and Amit Shah.

Besides, a negligible number, only a miniscule, mentioned their preference for Rahul Gandhi, Nitish Kumar, Naveen Patnaik and even Kamalnath.

THE OPINION OF OUR SURFERS IS GIVEN BELOW :

I believe, Modi in 2024 again as PM with seats above 400 and after that Amit Shah appears to be the most deserving candidate for PM.

Madhu Kapoor

After Modi Who ? Our PM is just 71 years old. President Biden of USA was 79 years old coming into office. As long as good health, active mind, yoga, are in his lifestyle, he has a good decade ahead of him. The grooming of the next generation of politicians in the party has commenced. To run a billion plus sub continent nation requires deep political skills. The next generation of politicians need to hone their political, administrative and National Security skills in many portfolios to be totally ready. Currently this question should be modified to "Which politicians are being groomed?"

Devindra Sethi

The country with a lot of difficulty has got a Prime Minister who is honest i.e. Narendra Modi. He is the first Prime Minister of this country, who pays out of his pocket for his monthly expenditure in the Prime Minister's Residence. Even Atalji and Sardar ji lived at the exchequer's cost in the PM's residence. Modi is religious and spiritual. During the two Navratras, he only consumes only warm water all through. He neither smokes nor drinks. Even Atalji enjoyed his evening whisky. During his tenure both as CM and PM all the gifts which he had received have been auctioned by the National Modern Art Gallery. The proceeds received have all gone into the Government exchequer. Last but not the least, there is no 'bol bala' of beti, beta, damaad, bhatija, bathji and biwi in the Prime Minister's Office. Dawood Abraham is a pal of Sharad Pawar.

Anurag Srivastava

If the incumbent finds fit, he can be installed as Prime Minister for the third consecutive time. Opposition leaders are yet to be exalted to the position of Narendra Modi being able to strike an emotional chord with the voters.

Ramkumar

Modiji is the best PM India ever had. He has managed all the situations very well. He deserves all encore for the same. For example, at the start of the vaccination programme the anti PM lobby did their best to decry the vaccination which resulted in doubts in the minds of some common man. If they had supported the programme, our completion figures would have been much more than 80 crores. It is a fashion for some people to decry our PM. Let them for a moment imagine being in his shoes and then they will realise the enormous odds the PM is facing. And finally when the availability of vaccines had slowed down a little may be due to various reasons different quarters were first to jump in the queue and criticise the GoI. Now when the figure has crossed 80 crores none of these so called critics have the graciousness to laud the GOI for the remarkable strides in the vaccination program. What a pity.

K Srinivasa Rao

Modi as PM

Modi is one of the best PM our country have and entire world has recognized him as global leader. In one sentence :- न भूतो न भविष्यति

In my view Modi should be PM for another 10 years to make India Superpower

2. How you see effect of Modi as PM

As NRI I can vouch for tremendous changes in functioning of High Comm/ consulates abroad. HC & Their team always on toes to serve NRIs. Credit goes to Late Sushma Ji & Jai Shankar

HCs are projecting excellent pictures of India and building relationships with various countries. They update their work and achievements immediately on social media

Modi has given importance to Africa which is future of world's activities

3. Who should be Modi's successor

1. Yogi

2. Gadkari

3. Smriti

4. How you see CM of MP

Shivraj Singh is doing very good work. Globally his image is very good. He should continue as CM. He should give importance to international investments. NRI cell should be more effective

5. How you see Congress or other parties

There is no national leader or PM candidate

6. Indian economy

Indian economy is booming. Sensex is performing well. Digital India is performing well. Make in India is doing good.

7. Suggestion

Both PM & CM should give importance to NRIs who wish to come back

8. Do you wish to come back to India

Yes if I get good opportunity

9. Indian Defence

Moral of Indian defence is high. Very happy with defence policies.

Politics, like all other spheres of human endeavour, is highly dynamic in nature. At the national level, the circumstances and challenges faced by apex leaderships varied widely down the decades since Independence. It is an unalloyed and perhaps bitter truth that nobody is indispensable.

It goes without saying that a Prime Minister is the guiding force but it is the system - including the bureaucracy - that actually does the work at the grassroots and other levels in our vast and diverse country. For instance, an enlightened bureaucrat would function effectively using his or her own intellect even in the absence of proper political supervision. Again, it is the hour that produces the hero.

Had anyone thought, say in 2010, that Narendra Modi would emerge like a Colossus on the scene? A political personage may develop and adapt himself or herself to be the most appropriate in a certain setting. Since a question needs to be answered, I would mention the names of Mr Sachin Pilot (because of his political acumen), Mrs Priyanka Gandhi Vadra (because she reveals greater maturity than certain others) and Mr Rahul Gandhi (because he may be catapulted by sheer chance).

[Abhijit C. Chandra (46) is a Bhopal-resident journalist and teacher who has two books to his credit - 'Bouquet of Life' and 'Vignettes of Valour'.]

Dreaming in the name of PM anyone can be like Mamta Banarjee/ Nitish Kumar think but PM materials must be away from personal vendetta/ jealousy and confident enough to sacrifice for their country but none of them can. Only Modi has vision and allows officers or others to shine but others don't. So at present no one is competing to be the present PM.

Kumar

India is fortunate to have Narendra Modi as Prime Minister. At the moment, it is unthinkable to have another leader to fill in his shoes.

Harshit

Continuation of PM Modi for another two terms can be the best thing to happen to our country. We should not assess the performance of a Government by what we are told but by what difference the policies have made to our lives. I admire the Laws passed by Modi Government, the speed at which I now get my IT Returns, The quality of Expressways on which I now drive that too with no delays in Toll Booths, The improvement in Railways and the way travel by train has changed, the speed of modernization of our Armed Forces, Indigenous production of TEJAS and host of other military equipment, the respect which our PM gets when visiting abroad, the political will to abrogate Article 370 and 37A. I can go on and on. With such a PM where is the requirement for a change.

Bharat Bhushan Pande

Narendra Modi is expected to retain power for the third consecutive time as there is no such strong leader who can take on him. NDA will derive political benefits due to weak opposition.

Nitin Saxena

It is felt that the entire debate may not be worthwhile. Who will be the next PM is entirely dependent upon the electoral result. If the same party gets the majority again, it is obvious that Modi would be a logical choice of the party first because he has built up his popularity over the years and second, because there is hardly anyone who has the personality and experience to become the PM. If, on the other hand, another party or combination wins, the question "who after" is redundant. In our democratic system, the winning party or combination may decide to name ANYONE as the PM even if the person is totally unsuited to hold that position. So, in case of the second eventuality, it is futile to even speculate from a practical point of view.

A K Singh

As far as three Prime Ministerial candidates are concerned, no doubt at present Modi is the top choice of the people. In the BJP party, at present there is no one who can challenge him. He is the first choice of the people and due to his vast popularity he will be the PM candidate in the next LS elections also. There is no doubt about that. Shah and Yogi are the other two most popular leaders but they are not contenders for the PM post at present. If we look at other parties besides BJP, it appears that Arvind Kejriwal of AAP is slowly gaining popularity in some states outside Delhi also. Some people, not happy with BJP policies resulting in high unemployment and inflation, look to Kejriwal and his populist announcements like waiver of power bills etc have won the hearts of a section of people groaning under the weight of unrelenting price rise. The third PM candidate is Rahul Gandhi despite the fact that the Congress' popularity is at nadir in most states. But Rahul has the capability; he has to prove it.

Ajay Shroti, College teacher, Bhopal

No doubt Narendra Modi is the top choice of the people and we must have no doubt about his immense talent and capability. The way he fought back and won people's hearts after the alleged mismanagements during the second wave of COVID-19 is really remarkable. At that time many of Modi's detractors had suggested that his image was badly tarnished. But the way he handled everything after a disastrous second wave has proved that there is no match for him in India at present. There are no second or third PM candidates in the country at present. Congress is the main opposition party but its main leader Rahul Gandhi stands nowhere near Modi in mass popularity and appeal. But still Rahul is the Congress leader at the national level and he is the second contender for the top job after Modi. If we have to suggest a third PM candidate then it will have to be from BJP and he is Amit Shah. He is not the party president but in effect he is still the chief of the BJP and plays an important role in the organisation.

Ruchi Saxena, Housewife, New Delhi

Narendra Modi himself once again in 2024.

M K Mishra

Only Modi after Modi.

If no Modi, Yogi / Amit Shah will do.

Antu Jain

Narendra Modi remains hugely popular among the masses. Other than him, Amit Shah and Yogi Adityanath could be possible choices.

Sunil

I am of the view that Modi has emerged as the tallest leader in the country. So far, no other leader appears to take on him. He may continue.

Priyanka Agrawal

The three prime ministerial candidates in the country are-- Narendra Modi, Amit Shah and Rahul Gandhi. There is no leader of national appeal and there is no other party of national level in the country except the BJP and the Congress. The Opposition has no PM face. If a Third Front is formed before 2024, which is highly unlikely, then we can have a PM face from the Third Front. In Congress, currently only Rahul has the public appeal to be projected as PM candidate. Modi is the first choice as PM candidate and in ruling BJP Shah is the only possibility except Modi.

Samyak Jain

UPCM Yogi Aditya Nath is certainly a PM face in India.

S Banerjee

Yogi Aditya Nath

Anil Kumar

UPCM Yogi Aditya Nath will be Effective PM

G P Sharma

Yogi ji

Anil Dagar

Yogi ji CM Uttar Pradesh
Amit Shah ji, Home Minister India.

Kedar Kaushik

I was having the same question a few days ago and discussing this in my friend circle although we would not like to see the day when India needs to find his successor soon. However, India as a country and BJP as a party should always have a backup plan. The contender will be many for the PM post, however I think the following could be the options without any order of preference:

1. Nitin Gadkari
2. Amit Shah
3. Yogi Adityanath
4. Smriti Irani, in case a women candidate is preferred by BJP to kill the aspirations of Mamata and Priyanka. I would love to see the cat fight in this case.

Narendra Rawat

Gadkari and Adityanath for PM

In BJP Nitin Gadkari and Yogi Aditya Nath are now PM Material. In other political parties you have to think twice.

R K Chari

"After Modi, Who?"

I am filled with a sense of déjà vu. A similar question arose during Pt Nehru's failing health. Nothing unusual happened after his passing away. Shastri ji emerged from out of the blue. Nature is supposed to take care of such eventuality and fill the void. No one is indispensable. Everyone is replaceable.

Coming to the pointed question : After Modi, Who, I would like to be upfront and fiercely independent. I hope my views are published in this site, irrespective of whether these support the present dispensation or not.

It would be inappropriate to suggest that Modi is matchless. We, Indians revel in raising the question : "After Nehru, who?", "After Indira, who?", "After Rajiv, who?", and now, "After Modi, who?" And, every time, voters themselves provide the answer. This is the beauty of Parliamentary democracy.

If, anyone expects the WIC surfers to name Amit Shah, Yogi and Nitin Gadkari as the three hopefuls for PM's post, it would be mistaken. Rajnath Singh cannot be left out and many more. A bitter intra- party conflict would ensue. PM Modi is, at least, holding the flock together.

But, at what cost? The dividing line between the Union of India and BJP functionaries is very thin, almost non-existent. Public memory is no longer short. It remembers the travails of de-monetisation, GST, farmers' distress, question marks on defence deals, caste-based polarization of votes, assets monetization, Pegasus etc. Much would depend on the outcome of results in assemblies elections and the fighting spirit of the weak opposition. It would be premature, at this stage, to make a guess on "Who, after Modi"? Turn of events could throw up new possibilities, new personalities, new permutations and combinations.

A K Saxena (A former civil servant)

In my opinion, Union Minister Nitin Gadkari would be a more effective Prime Minister for the country. At present, no other leader has a vision similar to Gadkari for the development of the country. Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath is also a prime ministerial candidate. If the Congress is able to secure a majority, then Rahul Gandhi should get an opportunity to become the Prime Minister.

Rameshwar Dhakad

Amit Shah is the second best

Ranju Kumar

- 1) Yogi Aditya Nath
- 2) Amit Shah
- 3) Himanta Biswa Sarma

Ashok Das

Apart from Prime Minister Narendra Modi, I can only think of Amit Shah and Nitin Gadkari as national leaders, who possess necessary qualities to rule the nation.

Satpal

I still believe that Navin Patnaik, Nitin Gadkari and Rajnath Singh have the ability and vision to be worthy successor of Modi. Having said that, it must be noted that this century has thrown up big surprises. Nobody thought Vajpayee will lose in 2004. Bigger surprise was choice of Manmohan Singh as PM. Still bigger surprise was arrival of Modi on the national political scene and he definitely conquered everything on his way. Now Modi- Shah combination is an international brand. Modi is destined to continue. But when he is ready to hand over, it may be another surprise for all of us.

Kumar

In BJP, Nitin Gadkari and in opposition Sharad Pawar

N K Singh

If BJP retains power for the third consecutive time, Nitin Gadkari can be installed as new Prime Minister. He is more visionary than others.

Rajiv Chopra

As I see it, three politicians who are fit to succeed Modi are Navin Patnaik, Nitin Gadkari and Rajnath Singh, provided age does not come in their way.

Kumar

In BJP Raj Nath Singh and Nitin Gadhlari and in opposition Nitish Kumar is always there. Naveen Patnaik is a silent candidate.

Giriraj Krishna

All the opposition parties should join hands and promote Mamta Banerjee. She appears to be a Prime Minister candidate and can lead the country in the right direction.

Faruque Azam

Only Mamta Banerjee who can take Modi head on.

Ravi Ranjan

No one can say about any PM face. Face will appear only at an appropriate time. At the moment Mamta Banerjee is the face, Sharad Pawar is now too old.

Amit Pandey

No one can say about any PM face. Face will appear only at an appropriate time. At the moment Mamta Banerjee is the face, Sharad Pawar is now too old.

Amit Pandey

Difficult to answer this question. In opposition Sharad Pawar is a well experienced politician who can lead this country.

B Sen

In opposition Sharad Pawar and Mamta Banerjee and in BJP Shivraj Singh Chauhan who is acceptable face.

Girja Shankar

Nitish Kumar is still PM face provided he is backed by the

I fully agree with the views expressed by A K Saxena, leaders emerge during crisis, no one on this earth is indispensable or perfect, life too is not a permanent feature especially when all of us know that each moment of life is a fixed match right from birth till death. If we go by India's democratic history, this has happened so many times since independence. Hence it is certainly a fake misconception floated by the dispensation that who after Modi?

Harish Kumar

A K Saxena's comments on "Who after Modi" clearly shows that he's anti Modi. His analysis lacks conviction and wants to blame the present dispensation for everything. No doubt the Prime Minister in his seven years has done a lot for the overall improvement and has managed all the crisis. I challenge if not Modi, who would have ventured for Made in India vaccine and we are almost into the 80 crore mark. We would have been begging other nations to supply vaccines if this PM is not here. We are a large country and have multiple problems. He is addressing everything and trying to give justice. He will go into the history books as the bestest (superlative - my bosses have used this term) Prime Minister of India. Hope everyone understands already now.

Ramesh

entire opposition.

J K Joshi

In 2011 L K Advani was the PM face. At that time, where was Modi? Similarly there are many faces of PM in this country.

S K Mehta

When Devegowda and I K Gujral can become PM, anyone can become PM in the country.

I D Khatri

This question mark itself has lost its relevance in the changed circumstances. The presumption of "other things remaining the same" never occurs in politics. Whosoever has occupied the chair of PM has proved to be better than his/her predecessor. History since 1964 till date is testimony to this fact. One thing is certain and that is "nobody is indispensable." There are white horses as well as dark horses who will win the race.

Raj Kumar Thakur

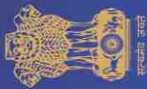

There is no PM face in South. Only a North Indian leader will be next PM only if there is no Modi.

Raju Srinivas

In the fractured verdict, Uddhav Thakre can be good PM. In Maharashtra, he is running the coalition Government well.

Dinesh Verma

In Congress Party only well experienced Kamal Nath can be

“Why Yogi Adityanath will come back to power”

1. Rise of Taliban and Muslim hard liners in Afghanistan in Pakistan and the impact of irrational statements of Samajwadi leaders calling them as freedom fighters has a major impact.
2. Yogi has sent all mafias to jail and attached all their assets - Mukhtar Ansari, Atiq Ahmed, etc. People know if Yogi doesn't come back to power these mafias will re-emerge.
3. Corruption free CM house - Mayawati regime and Akhilesh regime saw corruption in Smarak scam, river front scam, recruitment scam, food grain scam, sugar mill scam etc and people have not forgotten how everything was saleable in those regimes.
4. RSS and BJP cadre is very strong in UP and RSS sees Yogi as future National leader who will run parallel to Rahul Gandhi as they are of same age approximately. So RSS will put all its might behind Yogi and today RSS has grown phenomenally. Its might is unparalleled compared to SP and BSP who are banking on caste combinations to win seats.
5. To come back to power in 2024 UP is most important for Modi-Shah - they will also put all their resources to ensure smooth sailing for BJP.
6. On every front, be it payment of sugar cane farmers, making new roads and expressways, giving money to women under different schemes, raising MSP or record purchase of food grains, the Yogi Government has done much better than all previous regimes and people realize it.
7. Asaduddin Owaisi factor will divide Muslim votes between the SP, Congress, BSP and the AIMIM.
8. Welfare schemes like free ration etc. of the Modi Government and Yogi Government.
9. In rural areas, still Modi and Yogi are praised.

Lakhimpur crisis and Yogi Government (Special Report)

How was the Lakhimpur crisis diffused by Yogi Adityanath Government within 24 Hrs ?

The Lakhimpur incident of mowing down of farmers by a BJP Minister's son leading to the death of 8 people came as a bolt from the blue for Yogi Adityanath Government. The government was already facing embarrassment and a concerted attack from opposition on the Gorakhpur issue where a business man died as a result of Police brutality during a hotel raid.

The Lakhimpur incident led to a national outrage as it was alleged that the power drunk son of union state minister for home Ajay Mishra Tanwar ran over Sikh farmer's protesting over a previous remark of minister in which he had threatened to weed them out of the borders of the district.

The galvanisation of farmers from across the country over the Lakhimpur issue and the announcement by Rakesh Tikait, Ex CM Akhilesh Yadav, Priyanka Gandhi, Sanjay Singh, Bhupesh Baghel CM Chhattisgarh & farmer's leaders from other states sent panic waves across the Government of a major impending law and order situation in Lakhimpur Kheri and other adjoining districts.

Sensing the impending trouble a high powered meeting was held directly by CM UP & it was decided to send senior officers from Lucknow as emissaries of Govt who have impeccable career record, wide exposure of law and order situation, good negotiation skills and public credibility.

The unanimous choice for this was 1990 batch IPS police officer Prashant Kumar, ADG Law & order UP, who's been Govt's troubleshooter on a day to day basis.

Another name which was narrowed down for an experienced IAS officer was of Devesh Chaturvedi, ACS Agriculture & appointment. Devesh Chaturvedi has been regarded as a professional and non controversial officer carrying an impeccable image and carrying a wide experience.

Once their names were narrowed down these officers were asked to rush to Lakhimpur Kheri in the minimum time possible.

Once these officers reached Lakhimpur they were faced with the herculean task of maintain law and order in Lakhimpur, assuage the sentiments of bereaved family members, neutralise enraged public, confidence building, strike a dialogue with Farmer leaders, brief the media & also take directions from Govt & give them regular inputs about the unfolding dynamics on the ground. These officers were assisted by IG range Laxmi Singh & commissioner lucknow Ranjan kumar on the ground who had already reached before them to prepare the requisite ground for an amicable resolution of the stalemate.

As per inputs from the ground, as part of their strategy Prashant Kumar and Devesh Chaturvedi zeroed down on a threefold strategy.

In the first stage DM/ SSP were engaged in holding parleys with Rakesh Tikait and other Sikh leaders.

Depending on the outcome IG and Commissioner were kept in the second layer of communication and Prashant Kumar and Devesh chaturvedi were kept in the third layer of communication.

Once the negotiations started with the farmer leaders including Rakesh Tikait they soon reached deadlock as the farmer leaders placed several unreasonable demands which could not be met by the Government.

The officers on the ground were categorically told by the higher ups in lucknow that such unreasonable demands could not be met which necessitated a second round of dialogue.

The second round of dialogue was initiated by IG Range Lucknow Laxmi Singh & Commissioner Lucknow Ranjan Kumar who took the deliberation a notch higher and made significant progress. The biggest stumbling block was a demand in the first round of negotiation which demanded termination of the union Minister for home Ajay Mishra Teni & one crore as compensation.

IG Laxmi Singh & Commissioner Ranjan Kumar categorically told Rakesh Tikait and other leaders politely that this was beyond their purview and the demands have to be logical & reasonable for the stalemate to end.

After every stage of negotiation the officers communicated it to Prashant Kumar & Devesh Chaturvedi who were also present at the spot, monitoring the progress directly and communicating it to the higher ups & seeking their directions as well.

Media persons saw the DM/ SP/ Commissioner & IG holding closed door parleys with the farmer's leaders for hours and then come back again to Prashant Kumar & Devesh Chaturvedi for guidance.

They were seen giving them directions for renegotiation.

These officers would all sit together sipping tea & discuss the future course of action. What also served handy was Prashant Kumar's previous posting as ADG zone Meerut where he had cultivated good links with the farmer leaders like Rakesh Tikait and earned their goodwill.

He was heard talking to a couple of close aides to Rakesh Tikait to convince him to be reasonable & accommodative. He was also heard giving directions to various officers across the state to maintain peace at my cost.

After the second round of negotiation a favourable ground was created but the farmer leaders were apprehensive of the administration's commitment to keep up their promise and due to this the breakthrough could not be reached.

It was also told from sources that CM himself was update.

At one time it seemed imminent that the talks wouldn't succeed as almost 20 thousand people had gathered in the ground where four dead bodies of the accident victims were kept.

The large crowd which had gathered in the ground was shouting anti government slogans and seemed full of rage. The crowds kept pouring in and a catastrophic situation seemed evident as most of the protestors were carrying sticks, rods & brandishing swords in their hands.

No amount of force would have been enough to control this crowd as it would have led to large scale casualties on both sides which the government couldn't have afforded.

Journalists also heard Prashant Kumar & Devesh Chaturvedi regularly briefing ACS Home Awanish Awasthi & DGP UP Mukul goel also who were continuously monitoring the situation on the ground.

Their was palpable tension amongst all the officers every now & then there were tweets of some or the other dignitary expressing their intent to visit Lakhimpur.

Yogi Aditya Nath was firm that under no conditions Lakhimpur would be allowed to become a site of Political tourism and as a consequence Akhilesh Yadav and Priyanka Gandhi were arrested in Lucknow and Sitapur respectively. CM Chhattisgarh Bhupesh Baghel was prevented from landing at Lucknow airport.

During this high voltage political drama the ground dynamics was becoming volatile every minute on which intelligence agencies were keeping a keen eye.

Suddenly people in the crowd saw Prashant kumar and Devesh Chaturvedi moving towards the campus where dialogue with the farmers leaders with a huge posse of black cat commandos & para military.

It seemed clear that arrest of Rakesh Tikait was imminent.

Prashant kumar & Devesh chaturvedi entered into the meeting room & everyone expected that Tikait & his associates would soon be dragged into the Police vans. The doors were closed and there was complete suspense as no outsider was privy to what went inside.

After almost 30 mins people saw Tikait coming out with these officers and announcing in a press conference that all the important demands of the family members have been conceded and there was no reason to carry on the protest any longer.

Tikait then walked towards the ground where thousands of demonstrators were delivering anti Govt speeches & chanting slogans against the administration.

Tikait announced to the general public that the protest is being ended and the family members have decided to cremate the bodies as government has stood up to its promise.

This came as a bit of surprise as to how Rakesh Tikait who had not every conceded to the central Government could give in so easily. Sources observed that lodging of FIR against the ministers son & the minister came as a major clincher.

Prashant kumar had assured the leaders through IG Laxmi singh that their FIR would be lodged verbatim.

Sources said that Devesh Chaturvedi & Prashant Kumar's categorical assurance to Tikait that they are committed to fulfil all their legitimate demands diffused the situation. Their personal chemistry with the leaders & credibility also played a big role in ending the stalemate.

Sonowal flags-off Dwarf Container Train at JNPT

In a major development at the Jawaharlal Nehru Port Trust (JNPT), one of India's premier container handling port, the Union Minister for Ports, Shipping, and Waterways, Sarbananda Sonowal, virtually flagged-off the dwarf container train service from JNPT in the presence of Dr. Sanjeev Ranjan, IAS, Secretary, Ministry of Ports, Shipping, and Waterways, Sanjay Sethi, IAS, Chairman, JNPT and Unmesh Sharad Wagh, IRS, Deputy Chairman, JNPT. With this, the first consignment of laden Dwarf containers from Dwarf container depot (DCD) at the port was being moved by train to ICD Kanpur. The port is set to gain steadily from the implementation the Dwarf container train services from JNPT, as the rail movement of EXIM cargo through double stacked dwarf containers, would offer competitive cost advantage to the EXIM community, resulting in an increase in port cargo traffic via rail route. The rail movement of cargo through Dwarf containers has the potential to lower the EXIM logistics costs, making Indian exports globally competitive.
